

Agricultural and Industrial Fair.

The long expected fair of the Alexandria and Fairfax Agricultural and Industrial Association commenced this morning. The day dawned bright and beautiful, and no more delightful weather could have been had, if the directors themselves had appointed the clerk of the weather. All of last night and to day, from an early hour, King street and the other approaches to the Fair grounds have been crowded with carriages, wagons, horsemen and pedestrians, all on their way to the Fair.

The Main building up to midnight last night presented a scene of busy activity, the hands being hard at work arranging their stands and preparing for the day.

This morning the main hall presented a scene of beauty never excelled in this part of the country, and said by those who profess to know, to be unexcelled at any of the numerous fairs in the State. Every article of use or luxury is exhibited by specimen, and the mind of an ordinary man becomes bewildered in the maze of interesting objects.

In the Main building the exhibitors are Messrs. C. C. Smoot & Sons, who have a beautiful specimen of the leather tanned at their establishment in this city; M. E. Watson & Co., who exhibit ink of their own manufacture; David Appiah and M. Bessart, confectioners; J. F. Carlin & Sons, a fine exhibit of hardware and cutlery; J. P. Clark, well paper, curtains and parlor ornamentation; B. F. Peske & Co., builders' supplies; McLean & Under, household articles in profusion; Thomas Hoy and Slaughter & Bro., stoves and tinware; E. S. Land, butter & Bro., Jamieson & Co., W. E. O'Griffin, and Lutz & Davidson, a most excellent display of drugs and chemicals; the Kitchen School, sundry specimens of their skill; W. L. Padgett, A. Dandel, and Ferguson & Bro., sundries and notions; W. B. Watson, E. Luff, and J. J. George, coats and shoes; W. W. Adams & Sons, E. C. Aiken, and Henry Ward, a most creditable display of silvers and jewelry; C. Reichenbach, agent piano and organ; Singer Sewing Machine Co. (Mr. Brown, agent), a fine lot of sewing machines; E. L. VanAukon, an elegant display of organs, pianos, &c.; Julian F. Young, hats and caps; T. V. Bishell, saw mill work and builders' supplies; C. R. Hill & Co., an elegant exhibit of crackers, cakes, &c.; E. J. Miller & Co., crockery, earthenware and glassware; Geo. E. French, books and stationery; Geo. McDermott & Son, G. W. Ramsey, Thos. Landon, Richmond, Bro. & Co. and W. J. Lura, a most magnificent and extensive display of groceries; Robert Porter, ladies' dress, hats, &c.; C. S. Taylor, Jr., Thomas Perry and D. G. Watkins & Co., flour, of choice brands; E. E. Corbett, bricks; J. H. D. Vaughan, furniture; John Slater, G. Ketcher, the Missouri Hill Nursery, and Thomas Carroll, flowers. W. H. Sawden, G. Gillingham & Co., Robt. Brockert and Thos. Carroll, a most creditable selection of vegetables.

In the Ladies' Department the exhibits are so numerous and varied as to defy description, but the list of exhibitors published below will give some idea of their vastness.

In the grounds, outside, besides the horses, cattle, &c., a list of whose exhibitors will be found below, there are a large number of farm wagons, implements and other things useful to the agriculturist. There is also a printing office, to fill blast, run by Messrs. G. H. Hamey & Son, from which will be issued daily a very handsome little paper entitled "The Fair Journal." Mr. C. L. Broadus has also issued a daily morning paper, in connection with the fair, called "The Fair Programme." There is also a shooting gallery and a photograph gallery in the grounds.

A brass band has been in attendance during the day and will continue to night to discourse sweet music.

The grounds and buildings will be open to night and handsomely illuminated. The list of exhibitors as filed in the Secretary's office is as follows:

At the fair is one of the finest displays of agricultural products, mechanic arts and domestic handwork ever held in this State, and reflects great credit on this section of the country, and on all connected with its conception and perfection.

At three o'clock this afternoon the firemen's parade, in connection with the fair took place. The line was formed on Prince street, right resting on Fairfax, in the following order:

Pistori's Band.
Hydraulic Steam Fire Engine, drawn by four horses.
Relief Hook and Ladder Company.
Columbia S. F. E. Co., drawing their reel.
Columbia Steam Fire Engine, drawn by four horses.

The firemen all presented a most creditable appearance and added very much to the gaieties of the day. They marched to the fair grounds and paraded there to the great delight of all present.

At Dealham's all goods are warranted as represented.

On Exhibition—The finest stock of Cashmere, Waterproof Cloth and Beavers, ever displayed, at ISAAC EISENBERG'S, sept 27—1w Successor to Slaysmaker Co.

For a fine Hat go to Dealham's, 62 King street, corner of Fairfax.
